INVINCIBLE AT ISPO MUNICH, GERMANY 2023

1978: The company was founded in 1978 by Mr. Dharam Mahajan and the first glove produced at Invincible factory. In mid 1980s with the efforts of Dutch Boxing Veteran Mr. Kenneth Pettit, Mr. Mahajan produced high quality leather boxing gloves for the Dutch Army.

1990: Together Mr. Pettit and Mr. Mahajan discovered that athletes were getting poor quality training, while using poorly engineered equipment that multiplied the injury rate. Mr. Mahajan became determined to improve the safety of equipment by designing and developing equipment to meet the standards of Dutch Boxing Champions who are till date considered one of the top fighters.

2000: Invincible added apparels to the product range and revised the Classic logo. The demand for the Invincible quality products exceeded manufacturing capacity. Mr. Mahajan started to contract manufacture with several suppliers but was disappointed.

2005: Mr. Mahajan's son Manik Mahajan merchandised Invincible in United States. Invincible manufacturing capacity was increased and the company created the facilities required to raise quality standards to meet demands of customers and professional fighters worldwide.

2012: Invincible was awarded by the Government of India for Excellence in Exports of Sports Goods and Sports Wear from India for 10th year consecutively.

Invincible enters MMA in India by sponsoring "Super Fight League Challengers". The first ever MMA reality show of its kind in India started by Bollywood actor Sanjay Dutt and Raj Kundra.

The new face of Invincible was seen and the Unicorn logo was introduced.

2014: The new Bold Invincible logo, I78 logo and Stylish Invincible Bolt logo was designed to convey strength, style and power as the brand conveys.
